

Makawao Has Polo Match

Notes and Doings of Hill District—
New Theater Opened—
Land Sale.

On Saturday afternoon, July 25, the Maui polo club held its usual practice game on the Sunnyside grounds.

Though the line-up varied somewhat—the play, generally, was made by the old tournament four—Harold Rice, No. 1; Arthur Collins, No. 2; F. F. Baldwin, No. 3; and Dr. T. Fleming, No. 4—against a second four picked from H. A. Baldwin, J. B. Thompson, George Steel, D. Fitzgerald and W. Clark.

The former were the "Greens" and the latter, the "Reds."

The "Greens" seemed too powerful for the "Reds" who, though they displayed ability in hitting the ball, lacked team-play and so did not make the members of the tournament quartet extend themselves.

Quite a number of spectators were present from different parts of central Maui. From among those present a third four of old players (L. von Tempisky, W. O. Aiken, S. E. Kalama and the umpire, D. C. Lindsay) could have been formed which would have given the first four a good brush.

The ponies are now to be kept at the stables on the polo grounds until the time of departure for Honolulu.

NEW THEATER.

On Friday evening, July 25th—the new Makawao theater was opened by Joe Leal of Wailuku who has leased the building from the owners. An excellent program of moving pictures was given including four films of the famous "Miracle Play."

Mr. Leal, introduced by Tax Assessor Edgar Morton, made a neat little speech in which he stated that as a boy he had lived in Makawao and so had a soft spot for the old village and was determined to give Makawao residents the advantage of seeing all the best shows brought to the island. "Moving pictures" are to be exhibited regularly on Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

A large crowd of people was present. Fourteen autos were lined up outside the building, most of them hack-machines.

LAND SALE.

On Saturday July 26, at Makawao Court House, W. O. Aiken, sub-agent of 4th land district, sold at public auction nine of the fourteen lots for summer residences located at Olinda.

Among the purchasers were W. A. Baldwin, D. B. Murdoch, J. C. Foss, Jr., J. U. Waters, Miss Ernestine Lindsay and James Lindsay.

The pieces of land are two or three acres in area and brought the upset price of $100 each.

LOCALS.

The Japanese of Makawao held a meeting a short time ago and voted to establish a Japanese school similar to those of Paia and Hamakua.

At present there are eighteen old men inmates at the "Fred Baldwin Memorial Home, Paia." This is the largest number to date.

Now that the Paia beach road is well-nigh completed, macadamizing the highway from Paia church mauka to the Baldwin home is next in order.

Miss Standish of Berkeley is spending the summer as the guest of Miss Alexa von Tempisky of Erewhon Cattle Station, Kula.

Mrs. Millie Hair and children are rusticing in a little cottage near the Fleming home in Makawao.

Miss Mary E. Fleming of Hamakua is visiting her sister, Mrs. H. W. Baldwin of Pasadena, California.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rice and children of Paia are at Maluhia, Makawao.

Friday afternoon, the 25th, the Ladies' Reading Club held a successful meeting at Mrs. Frank Baldwin's Makawao residence.

S. E. Taylor and family of Hamakua are at the "Rest House," Makawao, for several weeks.

W. C. Crook of Makawao returned by the last Honolulu after a year's absence in California.

Rev. R. B. Dodge and family of Wailuku are at Kulamau—the J. P. Cooke's Kula residence.

Kaupakalua has a large crop of grapes.

Cattle on the ranges are in better condition now than in February.

Weather: Midsummer drought.

PRIZE STACKABLE.

There is some sorrow felt by the employees of the custom service because their monthly pay check has not arrived and because, also, it seems doubtful that one will arrive next month. The rule that a man cannot get an inspiration for his work if his check is delayed seems not to apply there for the young men keep at it whether or no. And a very busy force it is. Stackable has been rapped over the knuckles many times for one thing or another but the boys do not agree with the newspapers in the rapping. They say he is all right, a good disciplinarian and asks only that men do their work well and show their loyalty to him in all ways. Any employer would do this and not half of the staff, were it as large as the one in the custom house, would be as faithful. From all accounts the newspapers dislike for Stackable is due to his refusal to give out information which, if published, would bar justice. He has been heard to say that he used to give the newspapers everything but, after a reporter or two had violated the confidence he reposed in them and published information when he had requested them not to do so, he shut off the source. No one can blame him for it. There are some business men opposed to him because he has insisted upon a strict observance of the rules of the treasury department; he is not pliable and will not give in a particle. He is charged with a lack of judgment and a failure to use the discretion which the department allows, and which he is expected to use. But no matter, he is in office and it will be surprising if he does not remain. The mere fact that he is a republican cannot be a bar to his retention, at least until his commission expires in 1916. Republicans have a chance in this administration, and there is a belief here that Wilson will appoint republicans to office as a punishment to the disgruntled democracy of Hawaii. Some one said the other day that Farrington could not get to be secretary of the territory as he is a republican. The rank and file, much against its will, says it is not an objection and, while Metzger might be preferable, Farrington will probably get the job he has been teasing to come his way. If you will notice, the Star-Bulletin is in receipt of Kent cablegrams every day, and most of them are published; some of them are said to be held in reserve.

MONEY TIGHT.

There was a rumor yesterday that a firm largely interested in sugar is feeling the depression and the refusal of the banks to loan money on bonds. Nothing serious is expected, but the inconvenience is distressing. The banks are certainly holding on to the cash and will continue to do so until their cash balance will be so large that loans will have to be negotiated. Nor can the banks of Honolulu afford to hold the strings too tight. Commercial loans, it is said, are easy enough to negotiate if the firm wanting the money has a standing. Sometimes individuals like the "Baron," for instance, come along and make a touch that puts the squeeze on the legitimate borrower. Since he came from Camp 2 he has been defendant in a number of cases, one of the most recent being brought by the architect mentioned last week as having drawn the plans for the riding academy.

THE HILONIAN.

Cable advices came yesterday to the agents of the Hilonian telling of the steamer putting back when one day out of Seattle, with three men injured. No particulars regarding the injuries or the cause, so there has been much speculating over the affair. Today advices were received saying the steamer had departed for the islands and will be, probably, two days late. As she goes to Kahului you will be interested in this bit of news.

TWO DEATHS.

The accident at the new Inter Island floating dock yesterday afternoon was a bad one and shows the hand of fate as far as one of the men, Joe McKay, was concerned. He was badly injured when one of the boilers blew up a few months ago and had a hunch which he often expressed, that he would get a jolt on that job that would take him out. It came when a steel slab dropped on him and Olson, one of his co-workers. It is not likely that the blame for the accident can be fixed on the company, though the Utilities Commission will make a thorough investigation of the matter.

BRECKONS KEPT.

May the Lord, help any county official on Hawaii if he has been delving to the slightest degree into the money affairs of the county and not making return. Never in the history of the islands has there been a man like Breckons for finding out things, and separating the crooked from the straight and, if he fails in one try, he will make another and, nine times out of the proverbial ten, he lands his man. His methods have been criticized and termed persecution, in some instances but it is hardly that. He does not want to be beaten by a crook and he knows how to prove a man guilty when is not innocent. There are tricks in all trades, even in the law, and Mr. Breckons is past master at finding them out. There is a rumor that he is to be one of a permanent investigating committee of the bar association, whose duties will be to investigate charges against members of the bar, when proceedings for disbarment are instituted. If this true is something will drop.

Dew Keeps Sheep Alive

Sheep on the Nebo national forest, Utah, go four and a half months without water except for such moisture as they get from the dew and the juices of forage plants.

Grazing sheep on a range entirely destitute of water is a recent innovation due to the increasing demand for forage and the efforts of the forest officers to find a place on the forest ranges for all the stock that can safely be admitted. The area on the Nebo which has now proved usable by sheep is high and rocky, a portion of it being above timber line, and it has neither springs nor streams of sufficient size or accessibility to be used for stock watering purposes. The grazing season lasts from June 15 to October 31, and during this period of four and a half months the animals do not get a drink.

Under such conditions, however, the sheep have done extremely well, and last year's lambs from this range had an average weight at the close of the season of 68 pounds on the Chicago market, which was rather above the normal weight from that vicinity.

In one area on the Targhee forest in Idaho sheep get water only twice during the four-months summer grazing season. There is no water on the range, but the sheep are driven to a nearby stream lower down the mountain side. Lambs from this range weighed 65 pounds on the Chicago market.
